UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

RIGHTHAVEN LLC, a Nevada limitedliability company,

Plaintiff,

v.

WAYNE HOEHN, an individual,

Defendant.

2:11-CV-00050-PMP-RJJ

ORDER TRANSFERRING INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY TO RECEIVER LARA PEARSON

ORDER

Pursuant to this Court’s Oral Order during the March 5, 2012 hearing on Defendant Wayne Hoehn’s (“Hoehn[‘s]”) Motion for Writ of Body Attachment (Doc. # 68), this Court hereby orders the transfer of all of Righthaven’s intellectual property and intangible property to the Receiver appointed in this case, Lara Pearson (the “Receiver”), in order to give effect to this Court’s December 12, 2011 Order requiring Righthaven to transfer its intellectual property to the Receiver for auction. (Docs. # 62, 66.)

On June 20, 2011, this Court dismissed Righthaven’s copyright infringement action against Hoehn. (Doc. # 28.) Following the Court’s dismissal of Righthaven’s case, Hoehn was awarded attorneys’ fees and costs in the amount of $34,045.50. (Doc. # 43.) Righthaven appealed this decision to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. (Doc. # 45.) However, Righthaven refused to post a supersedeas bond for $34,045.50 as required by

1 Fed. R. Civ. P. 62(d) in order to stay Hoehn's enforcement of his judgment. (Doc. # 56.)
2 Righthaven's requests for relief before this Court, as well as its two emergency motions
3 before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals seeking relief from Hoehn's enforcement efforts,
4 were denied. (Docs. # 56, 57, 78.)

5 In connection with the Defendant's judgment enforcement efforts, the Court
6 appointed the Receiver to, among other things, seize the copyrights assigned to Righthaven
7 by various entities (the "Copyrights"), as well as its trademarks and other intangible
8 property, so that they could be sold at auction. (Doc. # 62, 66.) Despite the Receiver's
9 efforts, Righthaven has not transferred its intellectual property. (Docs. # 70, 81, 82.) The 10 only property that the Receiver has been able to obtain and auction is Righthaven's former 11 domain name, <righthaven.com>, which was sold for more than $3,000 in a commercially
12 reasonable auction (Docs. # 81, 82).

13 Based on the evidence submitted to the court by the Receiver (Docs. # 70, 82),
14 Righthaven has failed to substantively participate in the orderly disposition and sale of its
15 intangible assets as ordered on December 12, 2011. (Doc. # 66.) Moreover, Righthaven
16 failed to appear at the originally scheduled January 5, 2012 debtor examination in this case,
17 (Doc. # 71), and failed to appear at the March 5, 2012 hearing giving rise to this Order.
18 (Doc. # 88.)

19 In light of Righthaven's lack of participation in these proceedings, and Hoehn's
20 entitlement to relief (Docs. # 62, 66), this Court concludes it is appropriate to transfer such 21 rights as Righthaven may still hold in Righthaven's intellectual property to the Receiver,
22 Lara Pearson. The Court deems Righthaven's conduct in this case to constitute its consent
23 to this Order. With respect to Righthaven's copyrights, the Court is empowered to accord
24 this relief under 17 U.S.C. § 201(d)(1), which provides in relevant part that:

25 The ownership of a copyright may be transferred in whole or in part by 26 any means of conveyance or by operation of law (emphasis added).

1 This Court acknowledges that there is a dispute over what intellectual property
2 rights Righthaven actually possesses. Nonetheless, the Court may use its powers under 17
3 U.S.C. § 201(d)(1) to transfer Righthaven's copyright rights, whatever they are deemed to 4 be, to the Receiver for auction pursuant to the Court's December 12, 2011 order (Doc. #
5 66). While Righthaven has argued now that it does not have more than the bare right to sue,
6 as this Court previously held, Righthaven does possess copyright registrations that can be 7 assigned by operation of law. The copyright registrations to more than 275 works are in 8 Righthaven's name, can be transferred by this Court, and can then be auctioned by the 9 Receiver.

10 By operation of law as contemplated in 17 U.S.C. § 201(d)(1), this Court orders
11 the transfer of any and all rights held by Righthaven LLC in each and every of the 278
