In pro persona

DISTRICT COURT OF SOUTH CAROLINA FEDERAL JURISDICTION

Plaintiff:

Roland Chambers Jr. c/o Reliable Brokering

Vs.

Defendants:

Amazon.com Inc., Apple Inc., Artist Direct.com, Bop.fm, CCMusic.com, CD
Baby, CD Universe,

HBDirect.com, Rakuten.com, Sears.com, Tower.com

COMPLAINT FOR:

COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT, DMCA VIOLATION, AND EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO REPRODUCTION

The Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA) is a United States copyright law that implements two 1996 treaties of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO). It criminalizes production and dissemination of technology, devices, or services intended to circumvent measures (commonly known as digital rights management or DRM) that control access to copyrighted works. It also criminalizes the act of circumventing an access control, whether or not there is actual infringement of copyright itself. In addition, the DMCA heightens the penalties for copyright infringement on the “Internet”.

Section 106 of the copyright law provides the owner of copyright in a work the exclusive right:

- To reproduce the work in copies;
- To prepare derivative works based upon the work;
- To distribute copies of the work to the public by sale or other transfer of ownership, or by rental, lease, or lending;
- To perform the work publicly;
- To display the copyrighted work publicly
- In the case of sound recordings, to perform the work publicly by means of a digital audio transmission.

Section 501 of the copyright law states that “anyone who violates any of the exclusive rights of the copyright owner ...is an infringer of the copyright or right of the author.”

Generally, under the law, one who engages in any of these activities without obtaining the copyright owner’s permission will be liable for infringement.

1. Plaintiff Roland Chambers Jr. c/o Reliable Brokering (hereinafter “Plaintiff”) makes the claims of Copyright Infringement, violation of the DMCA, and violation of Exclusive Right to Reproduction. The claim is made against the Defendants: Amazon.com Inc., Apple Inc., Artist Direct.com, Bop.fm, CCMusic.com, CD Baby, CDUniverse.com, HBDirect.com, Rakuten.com, Sears.com, and Tower.com (hereinafter “Defendants”).

Jurisdiction and Venue

2. This Court has jurisdiction over all causes of action asserted herein pursuant to the Federal Question, because this case is a cause given by statute to federal courts.
3. Also, venue is proper because the causes of action stated herein arose in this judicial district, and Plaintiff resides in this Richland County, SC.

Parties

4. Plaintiff is an individual who resides in the County of Richland, State of South Carolina.
5. Defendants are corporations outside the State of South Carolina.

Factual Claims

6. In the year of 2001 Plaintiff provided Defendant (CD Baby) with 5 compact discs, which contained 11 songs and 1 video to act as an “online consigner” only. Out of the 12 pieces of work 6 songs were registered with the United States Copyright Office for exclusive copyright ownership to Reliable Brokering a business owned and operated by Roland Chambers Jr.
7. Plaintiff discovered the compact disc including the 6 songs registered with the Copyright Office were still selling in 2014 beyond the quantity ever produced, and in various formats including digital files and physical discs.
8. Defendant (CD Baby) made no payment for the disc until 2014 after Plaintiff purchased one disc via Amazon.com. CD Baby could not account for the other 4 disc, which; defendant has a 2014 email proving such.
9. CD Baby was discovered selling the copyrighted works in digital download format and the physical compact disc format. The plaintiff never made the files in a digital form and this action by CD Baby not only violates the Copyright Act, but it also violates the DMCA and exclusive right to reproduce. The barcodes were never scanned and the digital files did not contain the proper ISRC codes.
10. The remaining defendants also violated the Plaintiff’s rights. The Plaintiff has URL links from Apple iTunes/gargeband.com offering the digital formats of the 6 copyrighted works, which; constitutes infringement and violates the DMCA. Along with screenshots of Artist Direct.com and Bop.fm offering digital files that were taken in 2014. As well as screenshots of Amazon.com, CCMusic.com, CDUniverse.com, HBDirect.com, Rakuten.com, Sears.com, and Tower.com offering the physical copy for sale, which; violates the Plaintiff's copyrights. Amazon.com offered the disc through third party vendors on the United States website including domains in Spain, Italy, England, Germany, India, France, Japan, and Denmark for prices around $200.00.

11. The demand breakdowns for each defendant are attached along with explanation of STATUTORY and PUNITIVE DAMAGES.
12. Plaintiff (Roland Chambers Jr.) is in fear of his life including the lives of his three children and their mother. As well as the lives of his elderly parents who are not able to defend their selves due to the nature of this civil lawsuit. It is the request of the Plaintiff that the court does NOT honor a Motion to Dismiss made by the defendants due to the circumstances.
