Read Senator Foraker's splendid speech publishd in this issue of the News.

Bryan wants the Ohio Democratic marching clubs to adopt the continental uniform of blue and buff. Blow and bluff would be a far better combination.

An almond-eyed Celestial upon being asked what sort of people the Boxers in the Flowery Kingdom were, replied that they were of about the same caliber as the members of the party of calamity in the United States.

If, as Boss Croker describes him David B. Hill is "a sneak," "false" "deceitful" and "dishonest" the Tammany chieftain owes some explanation to the national Democracy for attempting to force Hill upon the Kansas City convention as a vice presidential candidate.

Lake commerce, according to the reports of the bureau of statistics, is making its highest record in the present season. The reports reaching the bureau show remarkable activity in all branches of commerce on the lakes and especially in iron and coal, in which Ohio ports hold a leading position and show phenomenal activity in this line of industry.

The duke of Manchester has been declared a bankrupt, and now we may expect to hear the announcement of his engagement to some rich young American girl.—Philadelphia Press.

Why, the announcement of his engagement to a Cincinnati millionaire's daughter was made before his bankruptcy, and though prior to his being declared a bankrupt the engagement was denied it has recently been reaffirmed.

The products of the iron and steel manufacturing establishments of Ohio continue to find a welcoming market abroad. The July statement of the bureau of statistics just issued shows that the exports of manufactures of iron and steel for the seven months ending July, 1900, amount to over $76,000,000, as against $35,000,000 in the corresponding months of 1897 and $45,000,000 in the corresponding months of 1898.

OPERA FOR CHARITY.

The Elk operatic carnival, which has been such an artistic success during the past week, will be continued during the coming week at the Casino at popular prices, under the auspices of the Elks, this organization donating all of its share of the receipts to charity, the receipts being duly acknowledged from day to day and report made of the disbursements to such charity as may be deemed most advisable.

The carnival is admitted by all attendants to have been the best local entertainment ever put on the stage in this city. It demonstrated that the city possesses much talent in musical and terpsichorean art and histrionic ability of high order. The participants acquitted themselves in fine manner. Their readiness to assist in a worthy charity by giving their services next week at the Casino can not be too highly commended, for the work has been arduous. There will be good use for the funds that may be derived from the performances and every penny of it will be devoted to the assistance of the worthy poor.

This move on the part of the Elks and the kind friends who have so ably asssisted in the production of the carnival will not only give the general public another opportunity to hear a splendid entertainment at popular prices, but will be the means of contributing to worthy charity.

THE REAL ISSUE.

As the campaign progresses it becomes clearer that the people recognize that there is but one issue before them in the presidential contest. It is the same as in 1896, says the Toledo Blade. It is whether we shall have a stable monetary system, or go to the unstable and wavering silver standard, abandoned long ago by every great commercial nation of the world.

Bryan's cry of "imperialism" is but a bogie. No man in this country desires imperialism. Nobody wishes to subvert the republic; no man desires to deprive the people of their rights—except the Democrats of the south with regard to the negroes. When Bryan cries out that liberty is endangered by our keeping the Philippines, and that the republic is tottering to its fall; he simply makes himself ridiculous, for no intelligent American believes him.

The voters see that this bugaboo is called the "paramount" issue by the Democrats to cloak their real design. Defeated on free silver four years ago they now try to induce voters to support it under the false cry of "imperialism." They are committed to free silver twice in their platform, and if Bryan were elected would drive the country to the silver standard. The American people are not fools, and can not be misled on this point. The only way to get rid of the free silver menace is to defeat Bryan again. Then the Democrats will drop the free silver issue, just as they dropped the tariff issue after the Wilson bill brought disaster to the country.

Ohio coal mines have turned out a larger product in 1899 than in any preceding year—the total production being 17,000,000 tons as against 12,000,000 tons last year and 10,500,000 in 1894 under Democratic administration. This is merely an illustration of the increase in coal production in all parts of the country under the McKinley administration. With the increase in manufacturing and commerce which came with the protective tariff and the McKinley administration there was a general increase in coal production. The official reports of the geological survey at Washington show a very large increase in the production of coal and especially an increase in the earnings of coal miners. In 1894, under protection, the coal miners of the country averaged 22 days employment in the year, in 1896, under Democratic control of national affairs, the number of days which they were employed dropped to 200, and in 1898 again dropped to 178, or only practically one-half of the year. With the restoration of the Republican party to power the demand for coal rapidly increased and the product in 1899 shows an increase of nearly 70 per cent over 1894 and also a large increase in the days in which the men were employed and in the amount of wages paid.

It is understood that Mr. Lentz will accept only the state department portfolio in President Bryan's cabinet.

Senator Mason, of Illinois, has evidently seen a new light and he leaves no one in doubt as to the position he will hold in the present campaign. He says: "I am with President McKinley and the Republican party in this campaign, and will take the stump for the ticket. I am in accord with the principles of the Republican party. McKinley's attitude in China completely refuted all charges of imperialism. He went into China, saying: 'We do not want one foot of your territory; we simply want to protect our people.' The president's action was wise and American-like."

It is now whispered that the "military parade of all nations" through the imperial palace at Peking was nothing short of a cakewalk and that this profanation of its sacred precincts by the foreign devils has disconcerted the Chinese more than they would be at the killing of a million soldiers.

A Bryan speech sounds rather scattering and disconnected when contrasted with such a one as Senator Foraker makes, particularly like the one published in this issue of the News which the senator delivered at Youngstown today at the opening of the state Republican campaign.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Life's a river, man's a chip
Floating on and on—
Fate stoops down and takes a dip—
Well, that's all—he's gone.

Can't convince some of the fellows who think the world would stop in its movement around the sun, if they were gone, that this applies to them.

If a man in China doesn't pay his debts at the usual time, the New Year, his creditors carry away the door of his shop, this permitting all the demons and evil spirits to enter. If that custom prevailed in this country what roaring fires would be necessary to offset the cold breezes that would float into doorless houses.

A Missouri editor last week said: "We expected to have a death and marriage to publish this week, but a violent storm prevented the wedding and the doctor being sick himself, the patient recovered, and we are accordingly cheated of both."

George W. Vanderbilt does not intend to allow any of his predecessors to outdo him in great public works. The late William H. Vanderbilt brought Cleopatra's needle from the Nile to Central park, and the late Cornelius Vanderbilt gave the Metropolitan museum some of its richest treasures. Now George W. has furnished the money to send an expedition to Java to search for the pithecanthropus. This great and glorious country of ours has been pining for years for the pithecanthropus, and when one is found the whole nation will rise up and call George W. Vanderbilt blessed.

Paris has gone into ecstasies over a new flower recently produced at the horticultural section of the exposition. The flower is called "La Genereuse" and is a species of China aster, or Reine Marguerite, resembling a small chrysanthemum, but shaped like an ostrich feather. It has great variety of color, some of the flowers being white, others rich purple, delicate mauve, old rose, pale blue and golden yellow. It yields no scent, but has become the fashionable fad of the hour.

Many a woman whom a man calls falsehearted is simply true to some other man, and the one he calls fickle simply tired of him.

* * *

There is a dissipated rooster in a Philadelphia stable, says the Record, near Tenth and Parrish streets, and for several days he has been on a protracted spree. A woman in the neighborhood has been making grape wine and every day she set her jars of grape juice out on the roof of a shed to ferment. The rooster began to fill up. The woman noticed him several times on the roof, and remembered afterward that he seemed to be acting strangely. He would stand on one leg, with his eyes shut and his head hanging to one side. Then his mood would change and he would shake all over and crouch down like a cat, ready too make a spring. At other times he would strut around and crow frantically. It was not until he was caught in the act of sampling the contents of the jars that the truth of the matter became apparent.

During the Banda Rossa engagement at Fairmount park Signor Bottega, the trumpeter, excited much curiosity by the extreme care with which he always carried the leather bag containing his trumpet. The fact is explained in that Bottega also carried within that bag a bottle of ink and a pen, articles made necessary by the frequent demands of autograph fiends. Wherever goes Bottega and his trumpet also go the pen and bottle of ink.

The new boots, gloves, and neckties of rattlesnake skin have elicited this comment from "The Ripley Bee": "We knew the poor rattlesnake would have to come to it sooner or later. It was almost the last varmint left that was more dishonest than a woman. Think of a woman being attired in a silkworm waist, a sheep's wool skirt, a sealskin sacque, ostrich feater hat, goatskin shoes, whalebone stays, kidskin gloves, horsehide belt, tortoise shell comb, fishscale trimming, stuffed canary birds, clamshell bottons, Spitz dog muff, mink tail collarette, alligator hide purse and now a rattlesnake necktie."

SOUTH KICKING

Over the Application of Bryan's Catch Phrase to Negro Vote.

The Bryan warcry, "consent of the governed," is proving a two-edged sword to the Bryan managers, smiting their friends and dividing their forces. A strong chorus of dissatisfaction is arising in the south over the reproach cast by the Indianapolis anti-imperialist platform upon the political methods of the Democratic party in that section, by which alone Bryan can get any Democratic electoral votes in the south.

The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser, Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial-Appeal and Macon (Ga.) Telegraph are resenting that resolution of the Indianapolis anti-imperialist convention, which declares that in supporting the principles of the Declaration of Independence they meant to apply them to the negro race in America, as well as to the Philippines, and that they deprecate all efforts to deprive the negro of his rights as a citizen. The Macon Telegraph, for example, says that "there can be no objection to these people voting the Democratic ticket; but it is very offensive to the people of the south for the south-hating, negro-loving agitators like Boutwell to give them a slap in the face upon the threshold, when they declare themselves Democratic."

World's Money Market.

Now that even the Cincinnati Enquirer acknowledges that "the United States will probably continue to be for a long time the cheapest money market in the world," with the result that if Europe, and more particularly, Great Britain, need gold, it will turn to the United States for it, because, as The Enquirer says, "nowhere else, in fact can gold be readily obtained," what is left in the face of this actual fact, of the entire Bryan campaign contention of four years ago, that McKinley's election would put up the price of money and drive the gold out of the country? In giving this fact Mr. McLean's paper is talking straight business, not politics, and for that reason its evidence is the more convincing.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

Porshott (after missing his twentieth bird)—I believe the birds are frightened at me.

Gamekeeper—They needn't to be, sir.—Chicago Chronicle.

DOES THIS HIT YOU?

What Protection and Sound Money Means to You.

ARE YOU A FARMER?

Under the Wilson-Gorman law which Bryan helped to frame and pass the loss in value of farm products was $4,283,000,000. Under the Dingley law the increase in value of farm products has been $6,358,000,000.

ARE YOU A MINER?

The value of our mineral products in 1899 was $200,600,000 more than in 1894, when Bryan was making the Wilson-Gorman law.

ARE YOU A RAILROAD EMPLOYE?

The railroads of the country least year paid you $77,000,000 more in wages than in 1895, when the Wilson-Gorman law, which Bryan helped to make, was in force.

ARE YOU A RAILROAD STOCKHOLDER?

The net earnings of the railroads of the country were $130,000,000 more in 1899, under McKinley and protection, than they were in 1895, under the law that Bryan helped to make.

ARE YOU AN IRON WORKER?

You made 6,657,000 tons of pig iron in 1894, while in 1899 you made 13,620,000 tons. You made 1,000,000 tons of steel rails in 1894. In 1899 you made 2,272,000 tons.

ARE YOU AN IRON MANUFACTURER?

You consumed 25,000,000 tons of iron ore last year, against 12,000,000 tons in 1894, and you exported $125,000,000 worth of manufactures last year, against $29,000,000 worth in 1894.

ARE YOU A SHEEP RAISER?

Your 36,000,000 sheep were worth $65,000,000 under Bryan's free wool law. Today your 63,000,000 sheep are worth $240,000,000.

ARE YOU A WOOL GROWER?

We imported 260,000,000 pounds of wool a year under the free-trade that Bryan believes in. Last year we imported only 75,000,000 pounds. Your wool of whatever grade and quantity sells for double today what it did.

ARE YOU A TELEGRAPH OPERATOR?

In 1899 there were 2,000,000 more messages sent than in 1894.

ARE YOU A POSTOFFICE EMPLOYE?

The postal receipts fell off in 1894, while during the last four years they have increased by over $20,000,000.

ARE YOU A BANKER OR BANK CLERK?

The bank clearings were only $15,000,000,000 in 1894. Now they are over $100,000,000,000. The increase in savings banks deposits has been over $500,000,000 since 1894.

ARE YOU A PRINTER?

We buy two and three papers now where we bought one in 1895. Merchants and all lines of business are using tons of printed matter, and there are no printers out of work.

ARE YOU A MANUFACTURER?

You exported in 1893 $158,000,000 worth of manufactured goods. Under the Dingley law you exported during the year ending June 30, 1900, $132,000,000 worth.

DO YOU MAKE TIN PLATE?

In 1890 you were looking for a job. The McKinley law made a new industry for you. In 1891 you made 1,000 tons. In 1899 you made 400,000 tons and earned over $20,000,000 which we used to send to Great Britain.

ARE YOU A SHIP BUILDER?

In 1895 you made 111,000 tons. Last year you made 350,000 tons and only 9 per cent of foreign trade is carried in American vessels. Think of what your tonnage will be when we shall have passed laws for the restoration of the American merchant marine, as we shall do if McKinley is re-elected with a republican congress.

ARE YOU A DOCTOR?

Illness comes in good times as well as bad, but the bills are being paid more promptly now than four years ago, and the back acounts are being settled up.

ARE YOU A BARBER?

Those full beards of hard times have been cut off, and the happy, prosperous man wants a shave two, three and four times a week now, and not so many men are shaving themselves.

ARE YOU A SHOEMAKER?

Those barefooted children of 1894-5 are wearing shoes now, and the parents seem to be having more and better ones now that they have plenty of money.

ARE YOU AN EDITOR?

The prosperous firms of 1900 are doing twice as much advertising as they were during the Bryan times and the subscriptions are being paid up and the list is much larger.

DO YOU KEEP A RESTAURANT?

Everybody who eats in a restaurant eats more now than during the free-trade period, and it's three meals a day now, instead of two or only one as was the case then.

ARE YOU A CLOTHIER OR HATTER?

The prosperous man will have good clothes, and the old hat is thrown away for the latest style.

ARE YOU A LAWYER?

Not so many suits for debts, but an immense increase in transactions that need your services.

ARE YOU MINISTER?

Your collections are from 50 to 100 per cent greater now than during the free-trade period. Your church debt is being paid off and the necessity for your charitable work has decreased.

ARE YOU A MERCHANT?

You have more customers now than during the years of 1894-5-6, and your customers have more money to spend by many millions of dollars.

ARE YOU A CIGAR MAKER?

Twice as many cigars are being consumed now as were smoked in the Democratic times of four years ago.

ARE YOU A BOOK-KEEPER, A CLERK OR A STENOGRAPHER?

Not so hard now to get a position as it was four years ago, and the pay is better, too.

ARE YOU AN ACTOR?

Remember the poor business of 1894-'95 and '96? Every theater in the country and every worthy company did an immense business last season, and the outlook for your profession was never brighter.

ARE YOU A TEACHER?

The colleges and schools of the country have more applicants than can be accommodated, and you are getting better pay than you were four years ago.

ARE YOU A BUTCHER?

It is estimated that the masses are eating twice as much meat as they were in 1895, and the wealthy are paying half as much again for lamb, porterhouse steaks and choice cuts of beef.

ARE YOU A PAWNBROKER?

Well, your business is not just the same as during the free-trade period. You have been busy taking in money on redeemed pledges during the last year or two.

WHOEVER YOU ARE.

Are you not better off than you were four years ago? Are you not earning more money? Are you not spending more? Do you not wear better clothes? Do you not live better? Are you not happier? Do you want to go back again to those Democratic free-trade days? Is there any doubt about your vote?

Mr. Bryan made the assertion the other day that the Republicans are afraid to discuss the issues of the campaign. Straightway comes the announcement that the president will devote much space in his letter of acceptance to imperialism. Mr. Bryan should not have shouted until he got out of the woods.

The sound-money man who votes for Bryan this year under the impression that the money question is not involved will kick himself around the lot should Bryan be elected. A free-silver law would be the first thing passed after the Democrats obtained control of congress.

It is a man's first duty to earn his living, to support his family and educate his children to become intelligent and useful members of society. To do this, he must have regular employment at good wages. Individual prosperity depends entirely upon the nation's general prosperity. Hence, the man who desires to prosper individually ought to support policies which promote and perpetuate national prosperity.

Help for Weak Women

Thousands of women endure the tortures of living death and at last succumb to the diseases peculiar to their sex without knowing of the life and health which is theirs if they use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, an ever faithful remedy that cures where all others fail.

Mrs. Grace Campbell, of 361 Logan Street, Grand Rapids, Michigan, relates the following story:

"The birth of my first child left me in a deplorable condition. My system was broken down and I suffered from general debility. I was exceedingly nervous and rheumatism often troubled me. My appetite failed me and the most delicate and inviting food failed to tempt me. I was thin and pale, and had neither energy nor ambition. My case had been growing steadily worse for two years. I had used several so-called remedies but found no curative qualities in them.

"In the summer of 1898, I was visiting my grandmother in Ludington, Mich., and there learned of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I tried the pills and had not finished one box before I felt much better. I continued them through the year and the result was a perfect cure. I am no longer nervous nor rheumatic and have more than regained my lost flesh. I certainly recommend the pills to all who need them and their results have always been beneficial."

ENGLISH SYMPATHY FOR BRYAN.

The Popocrat Free Trader's Success Would Greatly Gratify the British.

Probably the only thing that prevents the English newspapers from being unanimous in their support of Mr. W. J. Bryan for president of the United States is the pro-Boer plank in the Democratic national platform. But even that does not suffice to drive from Mr. Bryan a majority of the great journals of the British empire. They feel that this pro-Boer plank is a catch vote affair without any serious meaning, and they seem disposed to look at the situation as does the Newcastle Chronicle, which declares that long before the new president can be inaugurated the Boer question will be permanently settled, and no one can possibly open it again."

In London both the Speaker and the Saturday Review are enthusiastic for Mr. Bryan. The Speaker exceeds even the Democratic press of the United States in denouncing President McKinley. The Saturday Review fully indorses Bryan's silver policy, though in this it clearly is deceitful, for it is not for the silver standard for England. To these journals may be added the London Spectator, which, though professing to believe that McKinley will have the best of the running, is really for Bryan. It does not believe that Bryan will be less friendly to England than McKinley, and says: "If Mr. Bryan wins, the United States, in spite of the chatter, will neither attack nor be unfriendly to England, nor reverse the policy of taking up her share of the 'White man's burden' which Mr. McKinley has begun. The United States of America will be run on Anglo-Saxon lines whether Mr. Bryan or Mr. McKinley wins, and in spite of any amount of noise and shouting from 'hyphenated' Americans."

In reviewing British sentiment as expressed in English journals, the Literary Digest finds that "there is a curious want of sympathy in Great Britain with the Republican party." Yet there is nothing curious about it or surprising to those who have noted for the past forty years the harmony between English policies and the policies of the Democratic party. The Democratic party stands for the policy of free trade, which England has been trying to foist upon this country for 100 years. The American people have surely not forgotten the part played by the Colden club of London in several of our presidential campaigns, or the enthusiasm with which Democratic success has always been received in the British empire. The Democratic party is the real British party, and no amount of false clamor about secret alliances made with the British throne by the present administration will serve to conceal that fact.

In his speech at Wichita a few weeks ago Mr. Bryan declared that a little coterie of Englishmen were meeting in secret and making financial and other laws of this country. If a little coterie of Englishmen were running this country we should not now be doing business under the labor protecting tariff system of the Republican party instead of under the English free trade system espoused by the Democratic party. Does any one believe that if a coterie of Englishmen were running the country there would be in vogue in America a policy of expansion which threatens British trade supremacy throughout the entire Asiatic country? Certainly no intelligent man can believe so. And no student of politics can quote from the fair conclusion that Great Britain today is for Bryan, free trade and anti-expansion.—Kansas City (Mo.) Journal.
