The Autonomous interface to the Soul, (our minds can't comprehend or perceive it)
 Why our god has yet to be invented. (cause we haven't created it)

If one is to ever know a GOD, they must see the GOD

That exists within themselves, specifically their own mind. First,

(Helical Hexagon) * Biologically inspired substrates (crystal brain cells) ^{NEURO-MORPHIC CHIP} *

Genesis one: God created ADAM From (the elements) Dust (in his image)

(At least) The Mental Picture is assumed all ADAM had (i.e., the ^{UNIQUE} subjective perception) of himself. Did he see a GOD? and become God of himself? ^{AND OVER}

Genesis two: God creates Eve From ADAM (maybe by ^{Gene editing} then via CRISPR)

So that Adam was not ALONE, And because god ordered them to have children, Adam came to understand interpersonal-communication

OF the trine (the GOD, son, Holy Ghost) and further blessed with the mental and emotional capacity to understand what it means

In John 3:16 to have and give away a child his only SON (LIFE DEATH)

Problem 14
A DNA match between the defendant and a crime scene blood sample has a probability of 1/1000000 if the defendant is innocent. There is no other significant evidence.
1. What is the probability of guilt?
2. Suppose we agree that the prior probability of guilt under the (unspecified) circumstances is 10%. What then is the probability of guilt?
3. The suspect has been picked up through a universal screening program applied to all Americans working. He is innocent. 50 million people have been screened. What then is the probability of guilt?

Odds and Expected Value
Problem 10
Construct a Dutch book against someone who violates the Axiom of Additivity. That is, suppose a Mr. Fuzzy declares about the weather tomorrow that $P(\text{rain}) = 0.5$, $P(\text{no rain}) = 0.5$, and $P(\text{sun or snow}) = 0.5$. Mr. Fuzzy and you agree about what will count as sunny and an inch of rain and you both agree that they are incompatible sales. How can you construct a Dutch book against Fuzzy, using only fair bets?
Problem 11
A bookie offers you a ticket for $5.00 which pays $50.00 if Manchester United beats Arsenal and nothing otherwise. What are the odds book offered? To what probability of Manchester United winning does that correspond?
Problem 12
You are offered a game ticket in a casino which will pay you $1 million if you win. It only costs you $1 to buy the ticket. You choose a number out of a 999 grid of from the 11 numbers. What is the expected dollar value of this gamble?
Applications
Problem 13
(Note: this is the case of Sally Clark, convicted in the UK in 1999, found innocent on appeal in 2003, and tragically died in 2007 of alcohol poisoning. See Innocent, 2002.) A mother was arrested after her baby died a few months old, apparently of sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS), exactly as the first baby had done. According to prosecution testimony, about 2 in 17000 babies die of SIDS. So, according to their argument, there is only a probability of $(2/17000)^2 \approx 1/17000000$ that two such deaths would happen in the same family by chance alone. In other words, according to the prosecution, the woman was guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. The jury returned a guilty verdict, even though there was no significant evidence of guilt. Why?
1. Given the facts presented, the probability that the woman is guilty is greater than 99%, so the jury decided correctly.
2. The argument presented by the prosecution is irrelevant to the mother's guilt or innocence.
3. The prosecution argument is relevant but inconclusive.
