22 SUMMARY OF THE ACTION

23 1. Plaintiff brings this action for violations of exclusive rights under the Copyright Act,

25 misrepresentation under 17 U.S.C. § 512(f) for the defendant’s counternotification(s) referred to

1 3. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over these claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2 1331, 1338(a).

3 4. Defendants are subject to personal jurisdiction in California and jurisdiction is proper 4 in this district court.

5 5. Jurisdiction is proper in California because defendants are transacting business within 6 California by using the YouTube platform that Google operates from within California to (a) commit
7 acts of infringement, (b) profit from acts of infringement, (c) commit CMI violations, (d) profit from 8 CMI violations, (e) submit false and bad faith put-back requests in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 512, and 9 (f) profit from continued receipt of advertising revenue from videos restored by YouTube in 10 response to defendants’ false put-back requests.

11 6. Jurisdiction is proper in California because defendants committed tortious acts within 12 Georgia on the YouTube platform that Google operates in California. Defendants: (a) committed 13 acts of infringement alleged below in California on the YouTube platform, (b) committed CMI
14 falsification and removal violations alleged below in California on the YouTube platform, and (c)
15 submitted false and bad faith put-back requests alleged below in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 512 in 16 California on the YouTube platform.

17 7. Jurisdiction is proper in California because defendants caused plaintiff Viral DRM to 18 suffer a tortious injury in this state caused by an act or omission outside this state. The acts or 19 omissions that the defendants’ committed outside the state consisted of: (a) downloading plaintiff’s
20 copyrighted videos, (b) copying plaintiff’s copyrighted videos, (c) editing and creating derivative
21 works of plaintiff’s copyrighted videos, and (d) removing and falsifying plaintiff’s copyright
22 management information. All these acts caused plaintiff to suffer tortious injury in California 23 because after committing these acts, defendants then uploaded the infringing videos to YouTube and 24 displayed/performed the infringing videos on the YouTube platform with false CMI or with CMI
25 removed. Thereafter, when plaintiff submitted DMCA notices to YouTube, defendants responded by 26 submitting false and bad faith put-back requests in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 512. Following the 27 commission of these tortious acts, defendants then profited from their acts by receiving advertising 28

1 revenue from infringing videos, and damaged plaintiff by depriving plaintiff of the revenue that 2 rightfully belonged to plaintiff and not defendants.

3 8. Jurisdiction is also proper in this district court pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 512(g)(3)(D) 4 because defendants consented to the jurisdiction of this federal district court when it provided the 5 counternotifications attached hereto because the service provider provided with the 6 counternotifications can be found in this judicial district, namely YouTube.

7 9. Defendants have sufficient minimum contacts with the state of California, there is a
8 direct connection between the defendants’ tortious acts and the state of California, and the exercise
9 of personal jurisdiction over the defendants complies with the Due Process Clause of the United 10 States Constitution.

11 10. Defendants are subject to personal jurisdiction in this district pursuant to Federal Rule
12 of Civil Procedure 4(k)(2) because (i) defendants are not subject to jurisdiction in any state’s court of 13 general jurisdiction; and (ii) exercising jurisdiction is consistent with the United States Constitution 14 and laws.

15 11. Venue is proper in this district under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) and (c) and 1400(a) and 17
16 U.S.C. § 512(g)(3)(D) because the events giving rise to the claims occurred in this district, 17 defendants engaged in infringement in this district, defendant are subject to personal jurisdiction in 18 this district, and because defendants consented to this venue when defendants provided the 19 counternotification(s) referred to herein because the service provider provided with the 20 counternotification(s) can be found in this judicial district.

21 12. Defendants may be served by and through the email address listed in their 22 counternotice and through the website that acted as its agent and defendant agreed to accept service
23 of process through that website from plaintiff or an agent of plaintiff in the counternotification(s)
24 pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 512(g)(3)(D).

25 PLAINTIFF

26 13. Viral DRM is a Mississippi limited liability company.

27 14. Viral DRM is a syndicator of award-winning videographic content created by talented
28 videographers who travel around the globe in pursuit of Mother Nature’s wrath. Plaintiff’s

1 videographers and photographers cover weather extremes from tornadoes, hurricanes, flooding,
2 blizzards, volcanoes and climate change impacts.

3 15. Plaintiff is affiliated with WXchasing LLC, a Mississippi limited liability company,
4 and Live Storms Media LLC, an Alabama limited liability company. WXchasing is a video 5 production company that creates some of the videographic Works that Viral DRM syndicates and 6 licenses. Live Storms Media is a licensing broker of video content owned by or exclusively licensed
7 to Viral DRM and WXchasing.

8 16. Plaintiff's videos of extreme weather events are frequently copied, downloaded, and 9 reuploaded by infringers. Plaintiff is a popular and frequent source of footage of weather events that 10 cannot be obtained elsewhere. This makes plaintiff a frequent target for infringers and pirates.

11 17. Both Live Storms Media and WXchasing operate popular and valuable YouTube
12 channels on the YouTube platform. As of the filing of this Complaint:

- 13 a. Live Storms Media had over 350,000 subscribers and 19,000 videos on its 14 YouTube channel; the most popular Live Storms Media video had over 9 15 million views; and
- 16 b. WXchasing had over 65,000 subscribers and 475 videos on its YouTube
17 channel; the most popular WXchasing video had over 6.5 million views.

18 18. The Live Storms Media YouTube channel and the WXchasing YouTube channel are 19 viewed by substantial numbers of California residents who also view advertising placed on the 20 videos on those channels by YouTube.

21 19. When infringement occurs to Viral DRM's copyrighted Works Viral DRM is injured
22 and damaged in California. When someone infringes on plaintiff's copyright like defendants did 23 plaintiff loses out on potential sales or licensing revenue to other California businesses. When 24 plaintiff's copyrighted work is infringed upon and widely distributed on YouTube without plaintiff's 25 permission like defendants did, it damages plaintiff's reputation as a professional source of valuable 26 extreme weather video content and makes it more difficult for plaintiff to negotiate valuable licenses
27 from clients and potential clients in California in the future.
28

GOOGLE LLC

20. YouTube is a video-sharing platform where users can watch, upload, and share videos. It is one of the most popular websites in the world, with over 2 billion active users.

21. YouTube is owned by Google LLC.

22. YouTube is headquartered in this judicial district.

23. YouTube's main business is advertising. It generates revenue by selling advertising space on its website and mobile apps. Advertisers can target their ads to specific demographics, interests, and even keywords. This allows them to reach their target audience with a high degree of accuracy. YouTube also earns revenue from its YouTube Premium subscription service. YouTube Premium members can watch videos without ads, download videos for offline viewing, and access YouTube Music Premium. In addition to advertising and subscriptions, YouTube also generates revenue from other sources, such as channel memberships.

24. YouTube is a very profitable business. In 2021, it generated $28.8 billion in revenue and $20.6 billion in profit. Some of the factors that have contributed to YouTube's success are:

- a. The large number of users: YouTube has over 2 billion active users worldwide.
- b. The high level of engagement: Users watch an average of 1 hour and 20 minutes of YouTube videos per day.
- c. The wide variety of content: YouTube offers a wide variety of content, from music videos to educational tutorials to funny cat videos.
- d. The ease of use: YouTube is easy to use and navigate.
- e. The monetization opportunities: YouTube offers a variety of ways for creators to monetize their content, such as through advertising, channel memberships, and Super Chat.

DEFENDANTS

25. Defendants are YouTube uploaders with popular YouTube channels.

26. Defendants are individuals who are physically located outside the United States.

27. Defendants falsified their identities on YouTube.

1 28. The true identities of the defendants were obtained via subpoena from Google, LLC
2 pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 512(h) in miscellaneous case 2023-mi-00012 filed in the Northern District of 3 Georgia.

4 29. Google, LLC’s response to the subpoena issued by this court in miscellaneous case
5 2023-mi-00012 filed in the Northern District of Georgia revealed that the information defendants
6 provided in their counternotices attached as Exhibit 4 hereto was false information.

7 30. The true names, email addresses, and physical addresses of defendants are set forth
8 on Schedule A hereto.

9 31. Defendants copied and downloaded plaintiff’s copyrighted Works from YouTube.

10 32. After defendants downloaded plaintiff’s Works, they edited the Works, removed 11 plaintiff’s copyright management information, and then uploaded infringing versions of plaintiff’s
12 Works to YouTube.

13 33. Defendants copied plaintiff’s Works in order to advertise, market and promote their 14 YouTube channels, grow their YouTube channel subscriber base, earn money from advertising to 15 their YouTube subscribers, and engage in other money-making business activities using plaintiff’s 16 copyrighted media content.

17 34. Defendants committed the violations alleged in connection with defendants’
18 businesses for purposes of advertising to the public, including YouTube viewers in California, in the 19 course and scope of the defendants’ business.

20 35. The YouTube and Google AdSense terms of service prohibit the defendants from 21 engaging in the actions alleged herein. Specifically, the defendants agreed (1) they are not allowed to 22 upload content that includes third-party intellectual property (such as copyrighted material) unless 23 with permission from that party or are otherwise legally entitled to do so; (2) they are responsible for 24 the content uploaded to YouTube, and may be liable for any copyright infringement claims that arise
25 from your content; (3) YouTube may remove or disable access to any content that it believes 26 infringes on someone else's copyright.

1 36. Attached hereto on Schedule A is a list showing the defendants' YouTube channel 2 names, links to their channels, the number of subscribers, the number of videos, and the number of 3 views for the defendants' most popular videos.

4 37. The defendants' YouTube channels are extremely popular and valuable.

5 38. The defendants' YouTube channels earn significant revenue from the performance
6 and display of pirated video content.

7 39. The defendants monetized the videos they stole from Viral DRM. Monetizing videos
8 on YouTube involves enabling advertisements to be displayed on your videos, which allows you to 9 earn money through the YouTube Partner Program. The process works like this:

10 a. Eligibility: To monetize your videos, you need to meet certain eligibility
11 criteria set by YouTube. You have to have at least 1,000 subscribers on your channel and a 12 total of 4,000 watch hours in the past 12 months.

13 b. Joining the YouTube Partner Program: Once you meet the eligibility
14 requirements, you can apply to join the YouTube Partner Program (YPP). This program
15 allows you to monetize your videos by enabling ads on them. If your application is approved, 16 you gain access to various monetization features.

17 c. Ad Formats: YouTube offers different ad formats that can appear on your 18 videos, including pre-roll ads (shown before your video starts), mid-roll ads (shown during 19 longer videos), and display ads (overlaid on the video or beside it). The specific types of 20 ads displayed on your videos may depend on factors like the viewer's location and the 21 advertiser's targeting preferences.

22 d. Revenue Sharing: When ads are displayed on your videos, you earn a portion
23 of the revenue generated by those ads. The exact revenue split varies, but generally, creators 24 receive around 55% of the ad revenue, while YouTube retains the remaining 45%. The 25 revenue is based on factors such as the number of ad impressions, viewer engagement, and 26 the advertisers' bidding.

27 e. AdSense Account: To receive payments for your YouTube earnings, you need 28 to have an AdSense account linked to your YouTube channel. AdSense is a program by

1 Google that allows publishers (in this case, YouTube creators) to earn money from ads. Once
2 your AdSense account is set up and linked to your YouTube channel, you can manage your 3 earnings and payment settings.

4 f. Payment Threshold: YouTube pays creators once they reach a payment
5 threshold, which is typically $100. Once your earnings exceed this threshold, you become 6 eligible for payment. YouTube offers various payment methods, such as direct deposit or 7 wire transfer, depending on your country.

8 g. Other Revenue Streams: While ad revenue is a significant way to monetize
9 your YouTube channel, creators often explore other revenue streams as well. These can 10 include brand partnerships, sponsorships, merchandise sales, crowdfunding, and more.

11 40. The defendants listed on Schedule A had access to and downloaded Viral DRM's
12 copyrighted Works hosted by YouTube from Viral DRM's affiliated Live Storms Media YouTube
13 channels or Facebook pages online.

14 41. Once downloaded, the defendants edited the pirated videos to remove or crop out
15 plaintiff's proprietary watermarks and metadata. After editing the pirated videos, the defendants 16 combined the plaintiff's videos with other video content that they either stole from others or created
17 themselves and then reupload the resulting video to their YouTube channels and enabled advertising 18 on them to earn monetization revenue.

19 THE COPYRIGHTED WORKS AT ISSUE

20 42. Schedule A attached hereto contains the registration numbers of the copyright titles of 21 the performing arts Works at issue in this case. Schedule A indicates whether each work was 22 registered with the Copyright Office and provides the registration number if the work is registered.
23 To the extent that Schedule A indicates that a particular work is not registered, an infringement
24 claim is not alleged as to that unregistered work.

25 43. At all relevant times, plaintiff was the exclusive licensee of the Works at issue in this 26 case. The authors of the Works at issue are listed in Schedule A along with the URLs where the 27 Works can be found online.
